As always, you may email us at jlm.board.mail@gmail.com if you have a question or concern about your order. Thank you.

A JAILHOUSE LAWYER'S MANUAL PUBLICATIONS

What publications are available?

The Columbia Human Rights Law Review offers four publications designed to explain the legal rights of incarcerated people and help incarcerated people navigate the justice system to secure those rights. All of our publications are softcover books that are stamped "direct from publisher" when shipped. Due to institutional restrictions, we cannot offer any materials from other sources or publishers.

A Jailhouse Lawyer's Manual (JLM), Eleventh Edition (2017) – The main volume of the JLM is a 1368-page book containing basic self-help litigation information, including information on conducting legal research, seeking legal representation, choosing a court, and filing a lawsuit. The main JLM also contains specific chapters on habeas corpus, parole, DNA, the Prison Litigation Reform Act, religious freedom in prison, infectious diseases, mental disabilities, the rights of LGBT prisoners, and more. The JLM does NOT contain information on substantive law (such as the elements of crimes or degrees of a crime). It covers both federal and state law, with an emphasis on New York State law.

PLEASE NOTE: The NEW edition of A Jailhouse Lawyer's Manual will be available for purchase in October 2020.

If you are considering buying the JLM, we strongly encourage you to wait for the new edition. The law has changed significantly since the 11th Edition of the JLM was published in 2017. For that reason, the new, 12th Edition of the JLM will be more useful to you or your loved one than the current edition. We will update our website and this form as soon as we are able to accept orders for the new, 12th Edition.

However, if you or your loved one need the JLM before October 2020, you are welcome to order the 11th Edition. Unfortunately, we are not able to offer a discount on the 11th Edition at this time.

JLM Louisiana State Supplement (2018) – The Louisiana State Supplement is a 387-page supplement to the Eleventh Edition of the JLM, containing information specific to incarcerated people navigating the justice process in Louisiana courts and institutions.

JLM Immigration & Consular Access Supplement (2018) – The Immigration & Consular Access Supplement is a 110-page supplement to the main JLM containing information about the immigration consequences of criminal convictions for people who are not U.S. citizens, as well as information about the right of non-U.S. citizens to access their countries' consulates.

JLM Texas Supplement (2013) – The Texas Supplement is a 392-page supplement to the Tenth Edition of the JLM containing information specific to incarcerated people navigating the justice process in Texas courts and institutions.

How much does it cost?

JLM publications may be ordered together, or each book may be ordered separately. All prices include the cost of priority shipping. Payments may be made by check or money order and must be received in full before an order can be processed. Overpayments will be considered donations and processed as such. If you are incarcerated or if you are ordering for a person who is incarcerated, please follow the pricing for incarcerated people.

For organizations, institutions, and people who are not incarcerated: The Eleventh Edition of the main JLM is $140; the Louisiana State Supplement is $100; the Texas Supplement is $70; and the Immigration & Consular Access Supplement is $50.

For incarcerated people: We are able to provide a significant discount to incarcerated people due to the generosity of donors and alumni. For incarcerated persons, the Eleventh Edition of the main JLM is $30; the Louisiana State Supplement is $25; the Texas Supplement is $20; and the Immigration & Consular Access Supplement is $15.

Regrettably, the law prohibits us from providing any legal advice to incarcerated people. If you would like to use the JLM but are unable to purchase one, please inquire with your prison library to see if they will order one. We do not have used JLMs available and cannot guarantee the availability of older editions. We are actively working to make the JLM free for all incarcerated people. However, we currently do not have the funds to provide the JLM for free. We will update our website and this form if that changes.

How do I place an order?

To order online using a credit card, please visit: <https://clsjournals.directfrompublisher.com/>.

To place an order by mail, complete the order form below and send it to A Jailhouse Lawyer's Manual, Attn: Hanna Lauritzen, 1525 Miramonte Ave #3249, Los Altos, CA 94024, along with a check or money order for the proper amount. Please print clearly and legibly!

Please make your check or money order payable to Columbia Human Rights Law Review. Unfortunately, we cannot accept postage stamps as payment, and cannot accept credit card payments by mail. Overpayments will be considered donations and processed as such. If you are ordering for an incarcerated person, please follow the pricing for incarcerated people.

Please keep a record of your order, especially if you pay by money order, in case there is a problem with receiving or processing your order. The Columbia Human Rights Law Review* (and the JLM) is not responsible for any lost or delayed mail or payments.

Please inform us of any restrictions on incoming mail that your facility may have (for example, no padded envelopes, or first class mail only). The Columbia Human Rights Law Review* (and the JLM) is not responsible for any delays resulting from your facility's refusal to accept our delivery of the JLM, nor for any deliveries of the JLM that are lost or destroyed.

Due to the nature of the institutional mail systems, we request that you allow up to eight weeks from the date of your order for delivery. Because our office is student-run, your order may not be processed as quickly over school breaks.

Due to coronavirus restrictions, we are not able to get mail at our usual address (435 W. 116th St., New York, NY 10027). The California address listed here is a temporary address we are using during this period. We will update this order form and our website when we begin to use our New York address again.

Expect delivery delays: Due to the coronavirus, please expect additional delays in delivery of the JLM. If you have a question about your order, please email us at jlm.board.mail@gmail.com. We are working as hard as we can, with a limited staff, to respond to your orders and questions. Thank you for understanding.
